

Serological studies for influenza Their applicability in the surveillance, prevention and control of viral respiratory diseases

12-03-2026 (13:00 – 15:00, CET)

National Institute of Health Doutor Ricardo Jorge (INSA), Portugal

Norwegian Institute of Public Health, Norway

This webinar will be conducted by the National Institute of Health Doutor Ricardo Jorge (INSA), Lisbon, Portugal, from the consortium "AURORAE - Laboratory sUPpoRt fOR influenza and coRonA for Europe", under framework contract of the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control (ECDC).

No conflict of interest

Code of conduct

This training environment is a safe space where we:

- Use respectful language
- Practice empathy among ourselves
- Critique ideas, not individuals
- Respect the right to be silent
- Favour open dialogue where there are no “stupid” questions
- Welcome expression of all views in an inclusivity spirit.

ECDC has zero tolerance policy for harassment, discrimination and infringement of the Training Code of conduct

Housekeeping (online)

Instituto Nacional de Saúde
Doutor Ricardo Jorge

Chat

Use the TEAMS chat to write your questions and comments

Slido

Open slido.com or be ready to scan a QR code

Recordings

The webinar will be recorded.
The recordings will be available later on ECDC Learning Portal

Microphone

To protect personal data, microphone is not allowed.

Video

To protect personal data, video sharing is not allowed.

Outline

1. Serological studies, applicability in the surveillance, prevention and control of viral respiratory diseases | Raquel Guiomar, INSA
2. Design serological studies for influenza.
Representativeness, sample size calculation | Ana Paula Rodrigues, INSA
3. Serological studies implemented by member states:
 - 3.1. Prevalence of protective antibodies against influenza, Portugal | Raquel Guiomar, INSA
 - 3.2. Serological studies for influenza, Norway | Olav Hungnes, NIPH
 - 3.3. COVID-19 serological studies during pandemic, Portugal | Ana Paula Rodrigues, INSA
4. Questions and Answers
5. Concluding remarks

Audience Snapshot

“Tell us about yourself” (pre-webinar survey)

Instituto Nacional de Saúde
Doutor Ricardo Jorge

Slido questions

Which country are you joining from?

 The Slido app must be installed on every computer you're presenting from

Have you ever been involved in the development of a serological study?